The Archer Fellowship Program at Stephen F. Austin State University

ABOUT THE ARCHER CENTER

Founded in 2001 by Congressman Bill Archer upon his retirement from 30 years of service in the U.S. House of Representatives, the Archer Center serves as the Washington, D.C., campus of The University of Texas System. The Archer Center educates the next generation of leaders from Texas and around the world, instilling in them a love of public service. More than 2,000 alumni have graduated from the Archer Center's programs and are now making a difference in communities around the world.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW: LIVE, LEARN, AND INTERN IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

The Archer Fellowship Program provides undergraduate students from across the nine academic institutions of The University of Texas System with the life-changing opportunity to live, learn, and intern in our nation's capital during the fall or spring semester. Home to numerous government, nonprofit, media, and research institutions, Washington, D.C., offers unparalleled opportunities for career development and cultural enrichment, enabling students to pursue their interests in federal policy and public service.

While in Washington, D.C., students earn in-residence Stephen F. Austin State University credit for their coursework and gain hands-on work experience in an internship. Archer Fellows live together near Capitol Hill, experiencing fellowship and signature events that foster lasting friendships and professional connections.

ELIGIBILITY

Federal policy impacts many aspects of life, both domestically and internationally. For this reason, the Archer Fellowship Program is open to undergraduates of all majors and areas of study—we believe policymaking and public service are relevant and important for students from any discipline.

Students must meet the following eligibility requirements in order to apply:

- Minimum GPA of 3.0 at Stephen F. Austin State University
- Previous work or internship experience
- Campus leadership and/or community involvement
- Applicant must be pursuing a bachelor's degree at Stephen F. Austin State University

If selected for the Archer Fellowship Program, students must meet the following requirements by the beginning of their semester of participation:

- Junior or senior status by years and hours (first- and second-year students are not eligible)
- Twenty-four hours of in-residence credit completed at Stephen F. Austin State University
- Completion of government/political science core curriculum requirements (GOVT 2305 and GOVT 2306 or their equivalents)

COURSES

Archer Fellows take courses taught by faculty from UT Austin, UT Dallas, and policy experts from the Washington, D.C., community. Students earn 15 hours of upper-division in-residence course credit at their home campus, including six hours of course credit for their internship experience.

PSCI 4189: Internship in Political Science (6 hours)

PSCI 4372: Advocacy and Politics (3 hours)

PSCI 4373: The Politics of National Memory (3 hours)

PADM 3305: American Public Policy (3 hours)

Students are strongly encouraged to consult their academic advisor to learn how these classes will fit into their degree plans. Because the courses are considered in residence, graduating seniors are eligible to participate in the program during their final semester.

INTERNSHIP

All Archer Fellows participate in a full-time internship that aligns with their academic and professional goals. Archer Fellows are responsible for researching and applying for internships, while the Archer Center staff provides guidance and assistance throughout the process. Archer Fellows have had successful internship experiences in a wide variety of fields in the nation's capital, and Archer Fellows have developed a fantastic reputation as high-quality interns.

While many internships in Washington, D.C., offer financial compensation (e.g., stipends, hourly pay, etc.), some opportunities remain unpaid. For that reason, students should not expect to earn an income while in D.C. Visit archercenter.org/internships1.html for a non-exhaustive list of potential internship sites.

PROGRAM COSTS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

Archer Fellows pay a program fee in place of SFA tuition and a housing fee for the Archer Center's shared, third-party living accommodations. The current Archer Fellowship Program fee is $4,900 and is subject to change in future years. Students typically fund their fellowship through existing financial aid, designated campus funding, Archer Center need- and merit-based scholarships, and personal resources. Students are encouraged to visit archercenter.org/funding-your-fellowship1.html for more information.

The Archer Center and our supporters are committed to making the Archer Fellowship Program accessible by removing financial barriers that may prohibit a fellow from achieving their educational goals. The Archer Center's need-based scholarship provides up to $8,000 in funding for fellows. Archer Center scholarships, along with a variety of campus, private, and government aid, allow students to receive substantial composite funding for their fellowship. Please reach out to the Archer Center if you'd like to discuss your individual financial circumstances.

ARCHER FELLOW SPOTLIGHT

Tara Boccock, Spring 2024 Archer Fellow

MAJOR: Political Science

D.C. INTERNSHIP: Partnership for Public Service

CURRENT JOB: Law Student at University of Houston Law Center

"The internship I completed through the Archer Fellowship allowed me to participate in meaningful work with government agencies that was informative and fun. The Archer Center guided me through the application process and facilitated my stay in D.C., which allowed me to enter a new field before graduating and left me with an invaluable experience."
